DYONYX, one of the nation's leading information technology consulting and outsource firms, provides IT support services to federal, state and local government agencies and enterprise customers throughout North America.

The firm specializes in helping government and enterprise executive management improve the efficiency and security of their critical processes, infrastructures, systems and data while at the same time reduce their cost and risk through a suite of solutions that includes professional services consulting, IT outsourcing, risk management and managed services.

"Sustaining high revenue growth over five years is an exceptional accomplishment," said Skip Moore, Deloitte & Touche LLP, Managing Partner, Technology, Media & Telecommunications. "We applaud the successes of DYONYX and acknowledge it as one of the very few to accomplish such a fast growth rate over the past five years."

CEO Fred Pratt credits focus and a team of "A" players with the company's 506 percent revenue growth from 2002–2006. Pratt said, "Technology has some irresistible side bar opportunities that come up with clients almost daily. You can waste valuable resource time pursuing them. Keeping our focus on what we do best and saying no to the ones that are just out of our strike zone is hard, but the results are worth it."

Co-founder and President Chuck Orrico added: "Our strength is generated from a commitment to clients and employees to maintain the highest standards of quality services and deliverables through the employment, retention and promotion of staff who demonstrate an attitude of service excellence and a commitment to all aspects of the DYONYX mission to do "whatever it takes" to ensure client satisfaction."

DYONYX ranked No. 25 on the 2007 Deloitte Technology Fast 50 Program for Texas, a ranking of the 50 fastest growing technology companies in the state.

Founded in 1996, DYONYX is headquartered in Houston with offices in Dallas and Washington DC. For more information you can find DYONYX on the web: www.dyonyx.com.
